PETITIONING THE COURT

To modify the conditions of supervision as follows:

- 23 You shall complete a mental health evaluation and follow any treatment recommendations of the evaluating professional which do not require forced or psychotropic medication and/or inpatient confinement absent further order of the Court. You shall allow reciprocal release of information between the supervising officer and treatment provider. You shall contribute to the cost of treatment according to your ability to pay.

CAUSE

Michael Clugey violated conditions of his probation by failing to answer truthfully inquiries made by the undersigned officer and by associating with any persons engaged in criminal activity. On May 27, 2010, an unannounced home visit was conducted at the offender's residence. While there, the undersigned encountered Michael Clugey and an unknown female. Initially, Mr. Clugey identified the female as his stepdaughter who needed a place to live while in Clarkston, Washington. Eventually, the female was identified as Monica Cisneros-Rose, of Clarkston, Washington. The offender admitted that he purposely lied about his relationship with Ms. Cisneros-Rose. Upon further questioning, Michael Clugey stated that he knew he probably should have notified the undersigned officer prior to moving Ms. Cisneros-Rose and her husband into his home. Mr. Clugey told the undersigned that Ms. Cisneros-Rose intended to leave his home en route to a long-term drug treatment facility in western Washington. Both admitted that she is a current substance abuser in need of treatment.

Recent contact with the offender suggests that the above-mentioned modification is appropriate. On June 1, 2010, Michael Clugey acknowledged that he consistently experienced thoughts of harming himself. Consequently, the undersigned officer immediately referred the offender to a mental health therapist and directed him to resume participating in phase urinalysis testing.

In an attempt to provide federal funding, if necessary, it is requested that the Court modify the conditions of probation to include the aforementioned condition.

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct.
